

Breckenridge is a chateau that has it all

By Associated Designs

The Breckenridge is a contemporary European chateau designed to fulfill the fantasies of families who enjoy living large. Decorative struts, beams, and shake-textured siding are a treat for the eye, spotlighting gables at four levels. Intricate Craftsman-style windows, many of them arched, create a graceful counterpoint, while stone veneer wainscoting adds to the country manor ambiance.

At its core is a lofty vaulted great room, accessed via a vaulted foyer with an equally high ceiling. The wide alcove at the juncture between the two spaces is designed to house a grand piano. Music created here will resonate throughout.

Cabinetry for a home entertainment center flanks the stately gas fireplace, and windows fill most of the rear wall. Across the room, another fireplace and TV hutch extend the nook that expands the roomy kitchen.

A long conversation bar bounds the kitchen, with wings stretching out in two directions from the sink. The pantry is larger than most, adding to the wine storage right across the hallway.

A den/guest suite is right off the kitchen. A powder room and gracious dining room with built-in hutch and buffet are also nearby, down a short hall.

Twos are the norm in the Breckenridge's luxurious owners' suite. That goes for the walk-in closets, lavs, and even the shower entrances.

Upstairs, a bridge across the vaulted foyer/great room links two large bedroom suites. But there's more -- much more! A huge indoor recreation area is at the rear. Features includes a roomy theater, complete with soda fountain and conversation bar; and next door is a vaulted exercise room with space for numerous work-out machines, plus a spa. Relax and enjoy!
